SOCI 111: Introduction to Sociology

Introduces the basic principles of social structures and processes. Topics include major concepts and the scientific point of view in dealing with social phenomena, social institutions and their interrelationships. This course is a prerequisite to advanced courses.

Credits: 3
Program: Sociology