

PHED 222: Care and Prevention of Athletic Injury

Provides entry-level knowledge in the field of sport-related injuries. Topics include units dealing with the history of athletic trainer, basic anatomy of common injuries, and preventative measures to reduce the incidences of injuries, discussion about basic treatment of acute injuries, and discussion of legal and ethical issues.

Credits: 3

Prerequisites:

BIOL 221.

Program: Physical Education