

CPSC 441: Database Management Systems

Database concepts, database design, data models, query language facilities, and data protection considerations and methodologies. Emphasis is on the relational data model, but other database models are examined (e.g., object-oriented).

Credits: 3

Program: Computer Science