

HRDA 362: Health Management in a Global Setting

Providing support through humanitarian outreaches can become physically, spiritually, mentally, and psychologically demanding on the relief providers. This course places a particularly strong emphasis on health management for the relief provider in the demanding environments often associated with disaster mitigation. Students learn to monitor themselves and fellow relief participants to ensure sustained productivity in a variety of settings.

Credits: 3

Program: Undergraduate