

MUSA 235: Introduction to Music Technology

Introduces students to a broad range of interrelated use of music technology with the emphasis on topics such as sound theory, audio manipulation, MIDI, audio loops, music notation, as well as techniques associated with these items. Instructional weight geared towards beginner use of all topics.

Credits: 3

Program: Undergraduate