

EDU 507: Research Methods and Statistics

Explores basic research processes. Topics include the skills necessary to develop and conduct graduate research projects, issues related to the philosophy of science, the development role of scientific inquiry, and issues related to research design.

Credits: 3

Program: Education