

MOL 556: Lean Six Sigma Project

Provides an opportunity for students to implement an organizational improvement project following the Lean Six Sigma model that meets both customer and business requirements. Topics include demonstration of effective and efficient problem-solving skills that lead to process optimization, change management, and talent application. Students participating in this project will receive regular coaching from the course instructor from the project design stage, through implementation and reporting on the project.

Credits: 4

Program: Organization Leadership