

MOL 672: Marketing

Discusses the role of public relations in customer relations, stakeholder communications, and business development. Topics include marketing tools, ethics and integrity in public communication about the organization, concepts that are essential and adaptable to organizations of any size or type, including nonprofits, government, small businesses, and corporations.

Credits: 3

Program: Organization Leadership