

BGR 630: Specialized Readings in the Greek New Testament and/or Hellenistic Greek

A course designed to increase proficiency in translation and reading of the Greek language found in literature ranging in date from ca. 200 B.C. to ca. AD 400. In addition to selected New Testament passages, the course may include readings from the Septuagint, Philo, Josephus, the Apocrypha, the Pseudepigrapha, early Christian patristic writers, papyri and inscriptions.

Credits: 3

Prerequisites:

BGR 612 or equivalent.

Program: Greek Exegesis (AGTS)