

BSAN 242: Introduction to Programming

Introduces students to programming languages Python and R. Students learn within the coding environment core programming concepts such as data structures, conditions, loops, variables, and functions.

Credits: 3

Program: Business Analytics