

GNSA 296: Prior Learning

Serves as a vehicle through which students in the Professional Studies program can prepare to petition for the award of academic credit based on learning attained through life/work experiences. The student will learn theories and processes of adult learning and identify and document those learning experiences and competencies that equate to the content and competencies addressed in University courses.

Credits: 3

Prerequisites:

ENGA 110

Program: Undergraduate